

In the Specifications:

A substitute specification is being concurrently submitted herewith. The substitute specification is identical to the written specification as originally filed deviating therefrom in that the font used is different. Due to differences in font sizes, the written specification as originally filed prints in 117 pages whereas the substitute specification prints in 178 pages. The substitute specification is submitted to provide uniformed referencing system of the present invention to facilitate prosecution efforts before several national patent offices. All referencing to specific page numbers and lines numbers of the present invention is based on the substitute specification. The Office is requested to use the substitute specification in referencing any aspect of the present invention.

Entry and approval of the substitute specification are respectfully requested.